Speaker’s Biography

Hai V. Nguyen obtained his PhD in Economics from Concordia University in 2009. Since then, he has been a Postdoctoral Fellow in the Faculty of Pharmacy at the University of Toronto. A health economist by training, he conducts empirical research on policy-relevant issues in health economics, public health and policy evaluation. His research areas of interest include pharmaceutical drug costs, health-related behaviors and health outcomes (e.g. smoking, physical activity, obesity), and cost-effectiveness analysis. His works have been published in leading health economics journals (e.g. Journal of Health Economics). Apart from his academic research, Hai is actively involved in policy consultancy, being the lead author or co-author of a number of technical policy reports for government agencies and other stakeholders.